New Frontiers in Health Engagement

“Are we getting closer to consumer focused care?”

IAP2 WA invites you to a special breakfast event. We are all consumers of the health system at some point in our life. The sector, which is traditionally practitioner centric is now looking to new ways to engage, connect with and deliver services.

Come and listen to our expert panel of health specialists:

- Learne Durrington, CEO, Perth Central and East Medicare Local
- Tim Benson, Health Consumer Advocate
- Pru Jarrah, Consumer Interest Manager, Silver Chain
- Clory Carrello, CEO Cockburn GP Super Clinic

The conversation and discussion will include:

- What is working in Consumer engagement in the health sector?
- What are the biggest challenges?
- What should consumer health engagement deliver for the community and for the services themselves?

If you are a regular participant at IAP2 professional development breakfasts and are wondering what's in it for you – this is an opportunity to 'look into' another sector and explore best practice ideas that could not only add value to your practice but to your understanding (as an ordinary citizen) of the complexity of the health sector.

The breakfast will be followed by IAP2 Core Values Award 2012 announcements from 10.00am to 10.30 am. So please consider staying on a while to network and learn more. You will hear about WA Regional Winners and as a bonus a summary of their award winning community engagement work.
